Shotgun Shooting Fundamentals

Stance

- Stance aligned with target breaking point.
- Feet about shoulder width apart, with toes on lead foot turned slightly outward.
- Knee of the lead bent slightly; back leg remains straight.
- Approximately 60 % of body weight on lead leg and 40 % on rear leg.
- Stance comfortable and balanced so that it may be maintained before, during, and after the shot.

Shotgun Shooting Fundamentals

Hold Point

- Know where the target will first appear and the direction it will be traveling.
- Your hold point will be aligned just under the flight path of target to allow a clear view of where the target will first appear.
- The shotgun is pointed at the hold point, but the eyes are focused on the area where the target will first appear.

Shotgun Shooting Fundamentals

Mount

- The shotgun is brought up to your face to keep the head erect level.
- The cheek is pressed firmly against the stock.
- The head is as far forward on the comb as possible without straining the neck.
- The butt of the shotgun is in the pocket of the shoulder.

Shotgun Shooting Fundamentals

See the Target

- The target must be seen clearly at the earliest point possible.
- You must be looking past the beads and focusing on the field of fire where the target is in focus.
- The Sight Picture is the visual relationship of the shotgun muzzle to the target.
- When acquiring the sight picture, the focus must be on the target.

Shotgun Shooting Fundamentals

Swing

- The swing begins with the shotgun already mounted on the shoulder.
- When the target is clearly seen, the shotgun is pointed at the target.

Prepared. For Life.™

Shotgun Shooting Fundamentals

Trigger Pull

- The trigger must be pulled the instant the sight picture is correct (the target and the muzzle meet) for straight away targets.

Shotgun Shooting Fundamentals

Follow Through

- Follow-through means continuing to do everything that was being done at the time the shot was fired.
- The swing must continue if the shot pellets are to hit the target. The trigger is pulled while the shotgun is moving, and the gun must continue to move after the shot is fired.

Most Important Fundamentals!

The most IMPORTANT shotgun shooting fundamental is.....

➤ See the Target “Focus on the target”

You must learn to concentrate on the target.
